Foreword

As we ascend the eighty-nine steps at Pikeville College for the first time, we come seeking knowledge and truth. We come hoping to prepare ourselves for the responsibilities, the decisions—the world of tomorrow.

While at Pikeville we strengthen our minds, our bodies and our souls. We gain wisdom. We gain understanding of humanity. Most important, we gain understanding of ourselves.

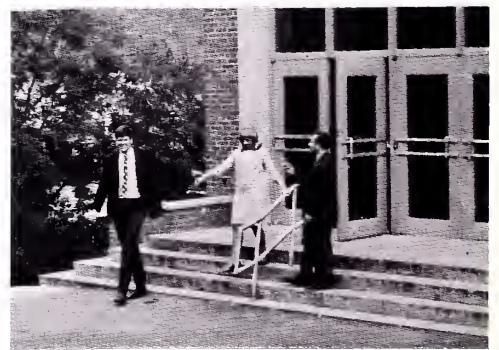

When we descend the eighty-nine steps, we go forth as products of Pikeville College—individuals capable of meeting the challenges that await us.

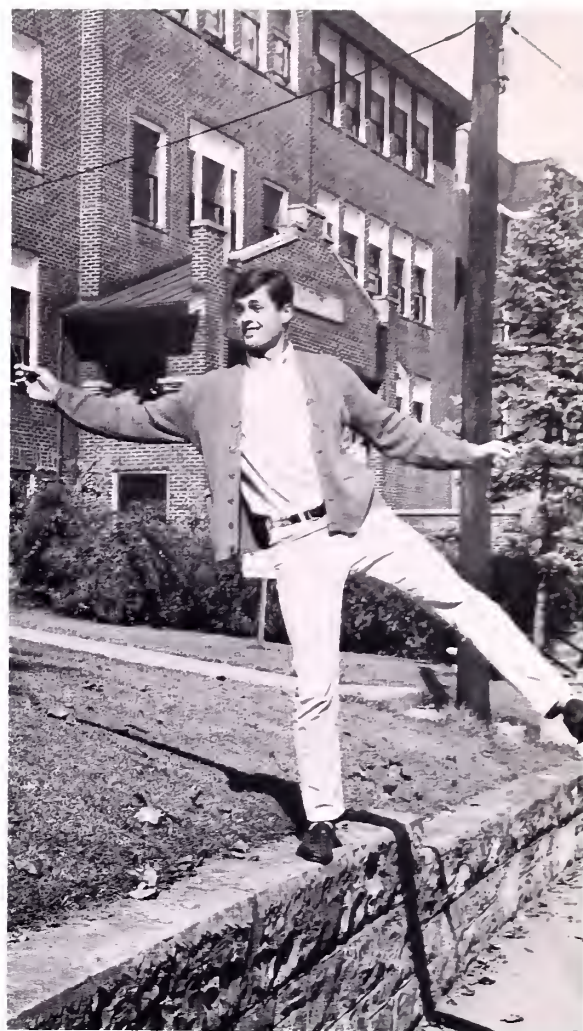

Pikeville

Pikeville College . . .

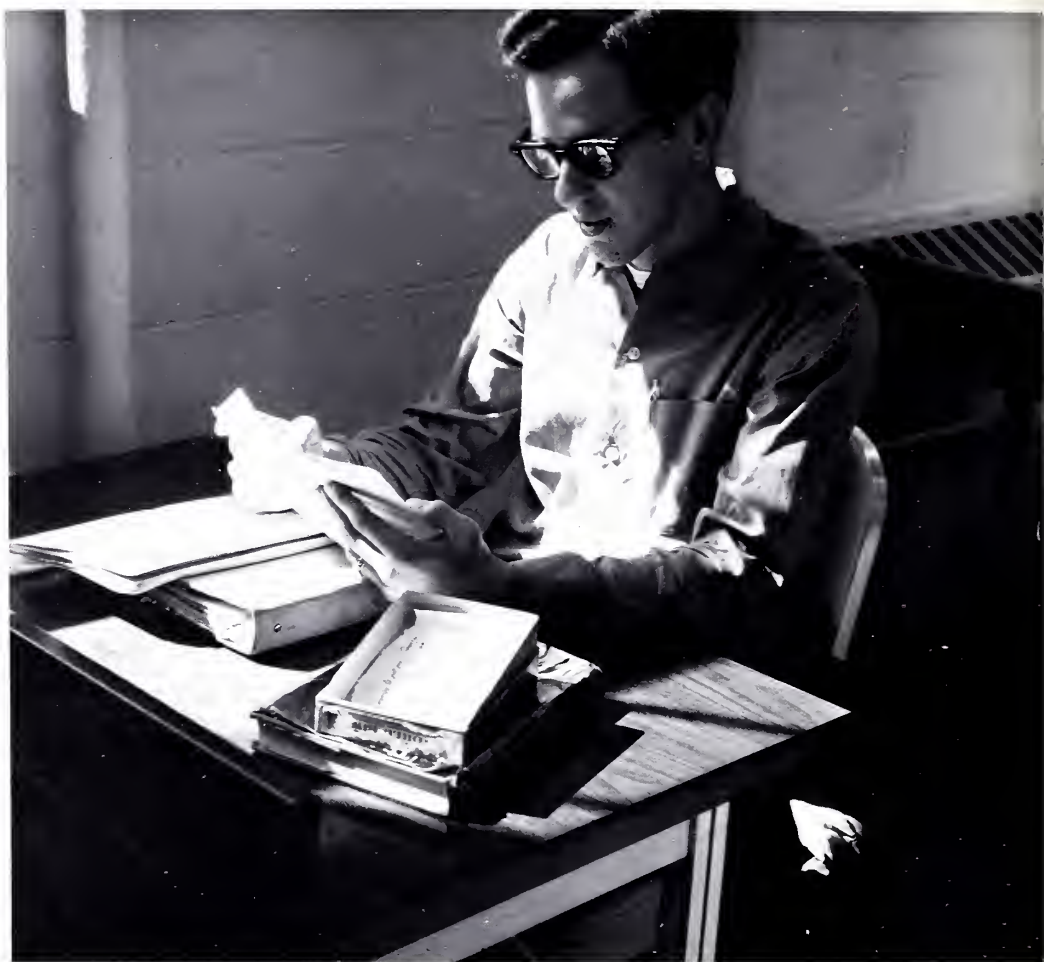

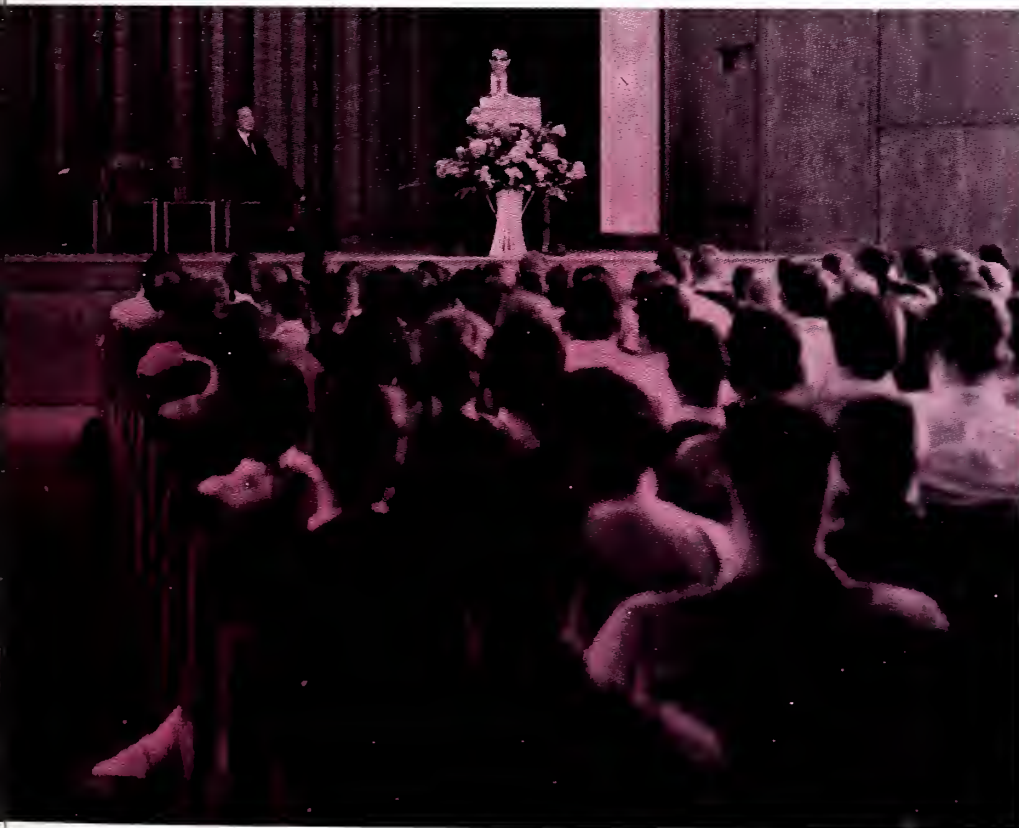

Dark corridors leading to knowledge,
 Doorway to a new world,
 A campus of reflection,
 frivolity . . .
 Collegiate life as it is lived
 By those who seek its challenges.

COLLEGE IS

cramming for exams,
coffee between classes,
buddies,
chapel,
touchdown passes,
campus gripes,
things to do,
a point of view.
This is college—this and more.

Sparks of knowledge
Inflame the questing mind . . .

The silence of determined contemplation.

Studying is a bent back and hunched shoulders and sore eyes.

It is late nights . . . early morning rising . . . and endless hours in the realm of books.

Fleeting friendships with the many . . .
Intimacies with the few.

In the ever present knowledge of today, classical ideals of improving mankind leave indelible marks on the souls of students.

To

Our Past Presidents

By 1966, seventy-seven years after the College was founded, six presidents have filled the leadership position at Pikeville College.

The history of their administrations show that their job required greatness—the making of decisions, the projecting of visions, the solving of problems, and the remaining erect in the face of criticism.

These six men possessed the qualities which enabled them to make the right decisions and to see beyond the present. They solved problems which did not have easy solutions, and maintained personal dignity in all matters.

They had the courage to persist in the raising of funds for the continued growth of the college. They made changes in policy and standards which led Pikeville College to a high position among small colleges of the state. By their guidance Pikeville College commands respect for educational and religious excellence. Different in their times, backgrounds, ideas and philosophies, they were united in one objective—a bigger and better Pikeville College.

For their dedication, courage, intellectual leadership, and for their devotion to Pikeville College, we, the staff of the 1966 HIGHLANDER, with deep humility, dedicate this yearbook to our former presidents.

Acting President, REDIFORD DAMRON

Acting President

For twenty years Acting President Rediford Damron has been a vital part of Pikeville College. Coming to the college in 1946, he began as an instructor of biology and director of the college Laboratory School. Later he headed the Education Department, and in 1957 became Academic Dean. On July 1, 1965, the Board of Trustees appointed him Acting President. The increase in his responsibility has been concomitant with the growth of the college from a junior college status to that of a senior four-year college.

President Damron is a native of Pike County, attended Pikeville High School and Pikeville Junior College. From Morehead State College he obtained his bachelor's degree, then received his master's degree from the University of Kentucky.

President Damron takes professional pride in the field of education. This pride manifests itself in his membership in Phi Delta Kappa, the Kentucky Education Association, American Association of Academic Deans, and the Advisory Council on Public Higher Education in Kentucky.

ORGANIZATIONS

Highlander Staff

It would be impossible to publish a yearbook that would suit each and every individual student on our campus, but we hope that some part of the HIGHLANDER will be enjoyed by the student, faculty, and staff.

The 1966 HIGHLANDER is the culmination of the diligent work of a group of students spending countless hours working in order to meet deadlines. They were trying their best to tell the story of the 1966 school year at Pikeville College. We hope that in the future that you will look at this yearbook and see that you were a part of Pikeville College.

My thanks goes to those students and others who have contributed to the completion of the HIGHLANDER.

As in previous years, this yearbook could not have been possible without the help of Dean Howard Hoover who has given his helpful supervision and understanding. This was a great aid to the staff.

There was also another advisor added to the staff this year. Dr. Le Roy Lindsay, we also would like to extend our gratitude to him for his professional assistance.

The Student Council is the representative group of the entire student body. The Student Council has clearly defined its motives: to further activities of student life and to promote student interest in it. The Student Council tries to insure each student a voice in his own affairs.

Beginning a new year the Student Council once again assisted with Freshman registration and published a Freshman handbook. In addition, our government body organized dances, Homecoming and the student elections. It proved to be anyone's sounding board for student criticisms and objections.

At the same time, Phi Alpha Theta is a professional society the objective of which is the promotion of the study of history by the encouragement of research, good teaching, publication, and the exchange of learning and thought among historians. It seeks to bring students, teachers, and writers of history together both intellectually and socially, and it encourages and assists, in a variety of ways, historical research and publication by its members.

FEATURES

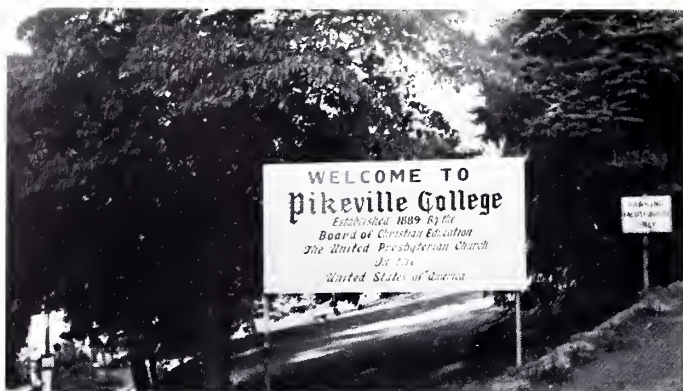

It's back to the old grind for some, come September. For others its a new and exciting experience. The ritual of registration and introduction to the College are hectic and confusing days. Then classes start—and basketball games—and hour quizzes. They meet new friends, date new people.

Some spend their free time in reading, writing themes or completing research papers. For others there is the excitement of Campus elections, of running for student offices, of joining professional, social, or honorary organizations.

Whatever he chooses to do the average student will have a busy schedule. Throughout the year he is rushed; if it's not a meeting, it's a lab, or a concert, or a play, or a movie, or basketball practice. There is always something to do on the PC campus.

College life is opportunity. It involves meeting new people and involves an intermingling of cultures and attitudes and we emerge so much the better academically, culturally, and socially.

College Life

College Life Is Varied . . .

College life, full of varied activities, creates an atmosphere unlike any other, living and learning is only a part of it. For this reason college life is special, and we will long remember the memories of our college days.

"Early to bed, early to rise starts you to class with bright eyes."

"We will soon have enough hours for a major in grillology."

"Sure hope this coffee clears up my head."

"This beats going to class."

The phantom strikes again!

One never knows how much time is involved in going to college. We are often amazed at how this time slips by so quickly, and how we get so little done until it is almost too late.

Commuters . . .

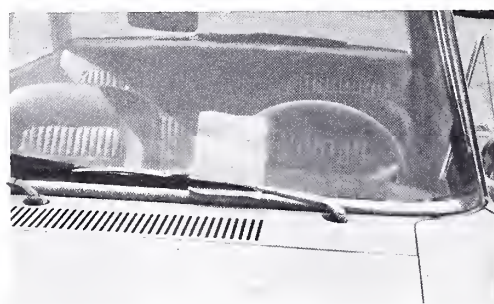

Always there is the early morning alarm clock and the rush leaving home.

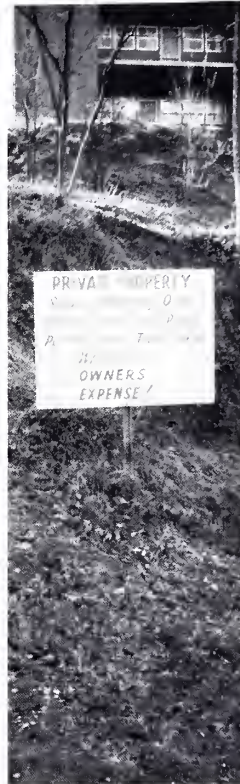

Always there is the traffic—and the ever present traffic light.

Always there is the faculty parking lot, the visitors parking lot, the student parking lot.

Always there are the small cars, the large cars, and the cars that are taking up two spaces.

The cars, the traffic lights, the parking lots—or the lack of them. The campus parking tickets, the stop signs, and the rush to class—all will be remembered by the PC commuter.

Library Series

Among the outstanding authors in this year's Library Series were Miss Gwendolyn Brooks, Pulitzer Prize winner in poetry and Mr. Jerry David Madden, editor of the "Kenyon Review." Mr. Madden delighted the chapel audience with the interpretative reading of one of his short stories.

The series also featured a number of excellent motion pictures of the past.

This year the Concert Association played to a nearly full house for each attraction. The Little Angels from Korea captured the audience's hearts with their dancing, colorful costumes and winsome personalities. Dick Leibert entertained his audience with both classical and popular selections on the organ. The Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus pleased concert goers again this year with their singing as well as their rope tricks. The season closed with the skilled playing of the Nadeau String Quartet.

Founders Day 1966

The Seventy-sixth Founder's Day program was highlighted by the chapel address of Dr. James S. Stewart of Scarsdale, New York, a member of our Board of Trustees. After a delicious roast beef dinner there was open house in the dormitories. In the evening Miss Emma Lee Tucker of the Music faculty presented a piano concert and the Peach Orchard Players staged a one act play entitled The Valiant.

Acting President—Rediford Damron, Dr. Wray Miller, Mr. Frank Forsyth, President Pike County Historical Society, Mr. Joseph Justice, and Tom Hereford.

Tom Hereford, Student Council Vice-President, Miss Mary I. Spillman—Alumni Secretary, and Joe Duke—Student Council President.

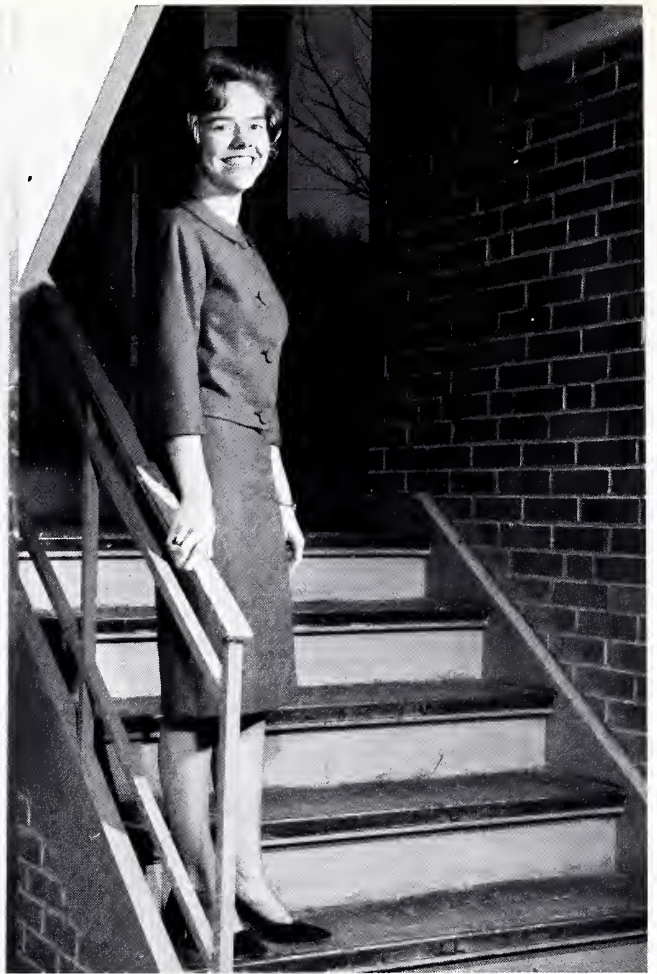

DEDICATION OF PIKEVILLE COLLEGE HISTORICAL MARKER

Mr. Joseph Justice, President of the Pikeville College Alumni Association.

Who's Who . . .

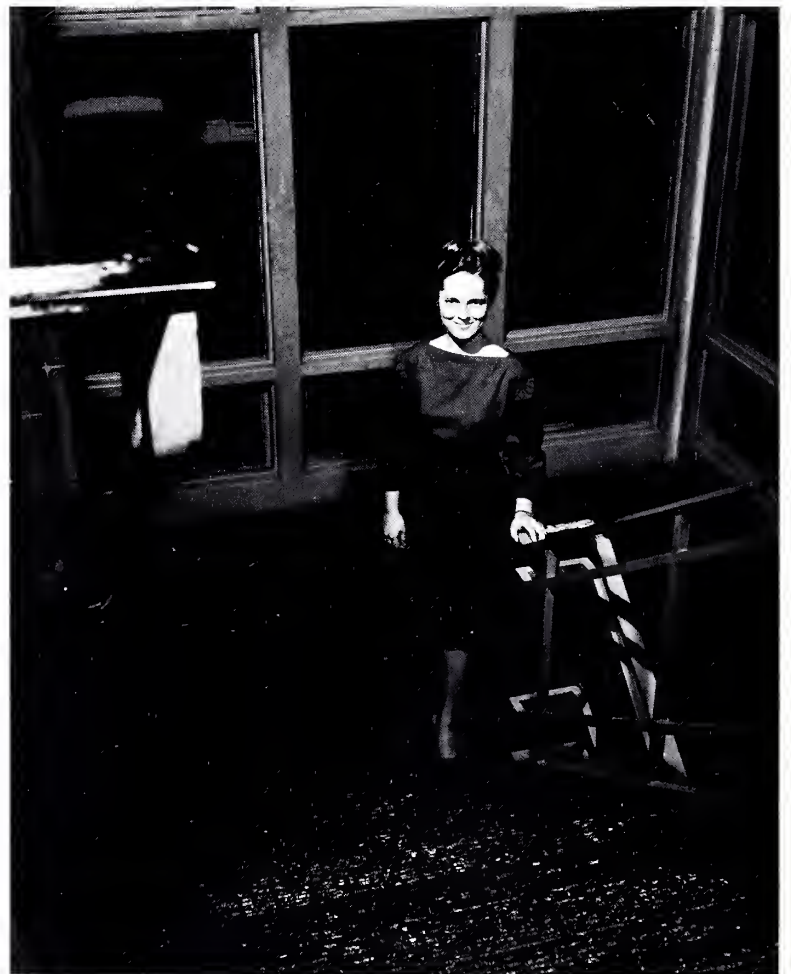

The idea for Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges originated thirty-one years ago as a means of recognizing outstanding college students of four year degree granting institutions. To be nominated a student must first receive a recommendation from his college and then be accepted by the organization. Nominations must be endorsed by a faculty member. Each participating institution is assigned a specific quota large enough to give an accurate representation of the student body. This year seven seniors were chosen to Who's Who from Pikeville College on a basis of grade point average and service to the school.

"ALL MY SONS"

by: Arthur Miller

Homecoming Begins . . .

Homecoming began with the campus nomination of candidates for the honor of reigning as Homecoming Queen and attendants for 1966.

Floats and decorations consumed a tremendous amount of time and effort of PC students before the big event. This was in a happy, mad rush filled with enthusiasm that had never been on campus before.

The South rides again.

The Go-Go girls rides again for PC.

"Remember, don't smile."

Top winner in the float contest.

Ralph, the Indian, has his shot blocked.

Look at the lips on that Indian!

"Somebody found a whole tribe."

Highlights of the day included: the Homecoming Parade, the Pikeville-Cumberland basketball game, and the annual Homecoming Dance after the game.

"How could you have lost a whole band?"

"This body doesn't need fixing."

"We will bury you"

The first Homecoming with our own band.

"Look at those pretty flags."

Tallest man in town.

All the important people get to ride.

"Who said our administration wasn't alert?"

"There's that lost band."

"We always hated a parade!"

Bears Win KIAC Tournament

The 1965-66 edition of Pikeville College basketball was one of surprise. Facing one of the toughest schedules in recent years the Bears won their share of the twenty-five game schedule.

Coach Butcher's chargers had a 17-8 won lost record topping it off by winning the KIAC tournament against Villa Madonna College by a 70-66 score.

Top scorer for the Bears was junior Terry Epling. The 6-1 veteran had a 21.1 point average per game. He was also the highest scorer in any single game, tallying 35 points in the fray with Union College. Epling was named to the all KIAC team at the end of the year. Another standout in the one game high marks was Charles Taylor who connected with 13 field goals against Knoxville College. As for the most free throws, William Wofter attained this honor by putting through the hoop twelve against Cumberland College. Doug Fuller led with the most rebounds with twenty-one against Campbellsville College.

Intramurals

Men's intramural, with approximately seventy per cent of the men students participating experienced a good year under the guidance of Intramural Manager, John Henry. The program now includes nine sports with football, basketball, and softball leading in participation. Awards are given for championship teams, and those men with a large number of merits are honored at the annual athletic banquet.

Intramurals for women are sponsored throughout the year by the women's athletic association. Inter-collegiate competition in women's sports was also started last year and appears to be gaining favor.

And it wasn't the

The whole idea of investor-ownership of electric light and power companies began when Thomas A. Edison and a group of investors financed his first power plant more than 80 years ago.

Since then, investor-owned companies like ours have become an integral part of America's Free Enterprise system. That explains why today we have at our fingertips more electric power than any other country in the world.

And it's this same Free Enterprise system that puts at your fingertips greater opportunity, greater expectation for success than can be hoped for by any other young people in the world.
